This workshop will be led by Maria Semple, a highly sought-after speaker and trainer on the topic of in-depth prospect research on foundations and companies. Maria will demo several important websites and provide tips on how to improve prospect research skills, focusing on foundations and companies.

The workshop is designed for faculty and staff who are looking for external sources of support for their research, creative activities, or programs.

It will also be useful for faculty who are interested in fellowship opportunities.

Participants may register with and use the SPIN, GENIUS and SMARTS search engine during this workshop.

Participants will walk away with a list of additional resources for seeking external funding of their projects.
